

'Real Time means better customer service!'

*Joseph Feo
Assistant Vice President,
Agency Integration
Selective Insurance Company of America*

"It also means reduced expenses for your agency when quoting new or re-marketed business and servicing existing customers.

By reducing data entry and the time it takes to quote or service an account, your staff can increase customer satisfaction and have more time to spend on revenue-producing tasks."

Experience the power of Real Time.
Start at getrealttime.org.

This message brought to you by the Real-Time/Download Campaign, which is dedicated to improving the competitiveness of the independent agency distribution channel. Participants include independent agencies and brokers, carriers, technology providers, user groups, and agent and industry associations.